ing, Stephens to Williams. The trouble started again when Freeman drew a pass and McBride singled to left. A wild pitch put them on second and third, but Dineen fanned Shipke.

The Browns tied it up in the sixth, after Williams had popped up to Shipke. Wallace hit sharply to McBride and George made his one slip of the day, a ren 3 8 (forfeited) low throw to Freeman, which got away almost to the pavilion and enabled Bobby to reach third. Ferris' high fly to Ganley then tied the game up, Wallace scoring on the play.

A great play by McBride in the elevchoked off an incipient rally on the gled to left, when Stephens came up and hit toward second. McBride took the ball on the jump, stepped on the bag, and Pickering batted for Kahoe at the start of the fatal sixteenth and went out, Wallace to T. Jones.

Fumble by Wallace.

Johnson struck out, and with two down it looked like another inning would be mnings). necessary. Milan, up for his seventh time, hit to Wallace, who fumbled long enough for the speedy little man to reach first. When Milan started for second. Stephens threw high and wide of the bag, the ball going to center field. Milan got mo farther than second, however.

Ganley got his base and then Unglaub got his third single, a hit to center, which ment Milan in with the winning run. Schweitzer's throw went to Dineen, who threw to Wallace at second, and Unglaub was chased for a moment, and then Jones threw to Stephens, who tagged Ganley out as he came in.

With the hefty end of the batting list up, the Browns made a hard try to tie the score. Stone filed out to Ganley. Hartzell singled to center and went t econd on Warner's bad throw. Williams, lowever, struck out, and Wallace popped
